Dr. ESENJEE'S WONDERFUL RING.

1 00D morning Gentlement Do you Wish to prevent premature death from diseases, then ask at once for Esenter's Wonderrot Rike! Iteures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Piles, Liver Complaints within a short period, and rapidly cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Spams, Colic, Palpitation, Hysteria, and it keeps the Uhronometer, Watch & Clock Maters, blood free from all diseases by putting it only on the finger of the left hard. I can strongly state as a means of preserving and restoring health it is unequalled, as it has been used by geveral European Ladies and Gentlemen with great auccess, for which I hold several unsolicited testimonials. It is the most wonderful discovery of the day, I have no hesitation in stating before the public that all households should not be without it; and its price is also very little, only Rs. 1/8 including packing and postage, ac. 1.40 THE dragons at the gate, and other stories for children, by A.R.O.S. is the title for a little book, got up in Japanese style, just published by Messrs Kelly & Walsh. The stories are well adapted for the entertain-0.75 | ment of young people and the quaint little volume makes an excellent gift book. Grown-up readers will also find amusement 0.75 in these little tales for there is a good deal of whimsical humour in them. ! The Story 0.75 of a Pinafore, for example, is very amusing.

Me Pan Law, the well-known photogra-1.00 pher, took a number of views in the Peak district during the two days that 'Jack' Frost ' was reigning suprome there, and he is now offering for sale the results of his enterprise in the form of a series of very interesting pictures, which will serve as memantoes of the phenomenal cold snap which the colony has just experionced and ought to be very refreshing to look at when the hot weether comes in and the thermometer gets away up about sixty degrees above the point at which it stood when these photographs were taken. The views are very well chosen to illustrate the unwented aspect of the vegetation at the Peak under its 4.50 0.40 | coating of ice, and Mr Pun Lun's name is a sufficient guarentee for the excellence of the workmanship in the production of

At a recent meeting of the German Anthropological Society in Berlin, Professor Virchow exhibited some fragments of bread hood of Samora during his visit to Russia last autumn. The bread was a sample of that made from chenopodium seeds during this bread which had been made for him gave results which considerably surprised him. The 'famine bread' contained 36.52 per cent. of starch, 11.79 of albumen, and 3.79 of fat; while ordinary rye bread contains per cent.), and fat (0.48 per cent.) The famine bread, therefore, contrary to what Virchow, like Balaan, felt himself compelled to bless where he had expected to be Journal

This occurred not long ago at one of the an ex-Minister, entered the coffee-room at dinner time, but found every table engaged informed by a waiter that it was engaged for Lord So-and-so. Now, the nobleman in question is vel-known for two characteristics, viz., absence of mind, and utter disregard for the good things of this world -a man, in fact, who merely cuts to live, The ex-Minister accordingly said : - Never mind-when his lordship comes, tell him that he has dined,-it will be all right.' The two friends then annexed the table, and proceeded with their dinner. Before very long Lord So-and-so came quietly up, and in a perrous manner enquired of the waiter: - 1s not this my table? upon which the servant answered (as directed) :- I beg your pardon, my Lord, your lordship has dined.' Have I?' was the enswer, 'you don't say so !' Then he bowed most good humouredly and, perfectly satisfied, gently left the room. The story does not go further, but it is to be hoped that the practical joke did not extend to depriving the kindly old man of his dinner.

Tur problem of the steering of balloons

anid to have been solved by a Hamburg gardener, who has been engaged on the question for twelve years past, and about of year ago constructed a balloon which he claims will fulfil all the required conditions. His name is Carl Theodor Geissler. The invention, the Berlin correspondent of the Standard says, has been reported upon favourably by more than one expert, and the Imperial Patent Office has patented several of the improvements in his balloon. the form of which is in its main features. similar to that of the ordinary machine. Herr Geissler has exhibited the model of his balloon in Berlin and it has been inspected - by members of the Aeronautic Department of the Army. In form it resembles a torpede, the object being to enable the balloon to overcome more easily the 'resistance of the air. The balloon is not enveloped in a net but its folds are sewn into the case. so that if a rupture occurs at any point, not a large hole, but only a rent from one fold to another, is formed, and the ras encapes quite gradually. The car hangs by ropes, fastened by loops to the lower folds itself, and has a winged screw in front and a ! weighing only 120 kilogrammes, makes 2.000 revolutions in a minute, and moves the balloon forward. The rise and fall can be regulated by a sliding weight, and by a ring which encircles the case, and on the surface of which the air exerts creater or less pressure, according to the horizontal model would cost 12,000 marks (about 600%). The inventor hopes to interest capitalists. and thus to get a balloon of proper dimensions constructed.

OLIGARUHICAL DEMOCRACY IN . CHINA.

It was once supposed that the Government of China is an absolute despotism, like that of Turkey or of Russia. It is now sufficiently well known that every Emperor upon the Chinese throne is held in check by a variety of forces, and that like other mortals be cannot escape from his 'environment, He is himself governhe is transmelled by the ponderous machinery of Boards and Departments. If all the high officials in the Empire of even knowing what is going on in any to be; that while he is 'absolute' in theory he is so is theory only, and that like other rulers he practically shares his rule with a small but powerful body of officials whom he bimself appoints, and whom he can at The Chairman-I regret to say that Dr | any moment remove, but upon whom as long as they hold office at all, he is yet wholly dependent.
